WINEMAKING	Made with our own grapes grown in a ravine in the Andean foothills of the Cachapoal Valley. The grapes are hand-harvested into 12-kg boxes. Following cluster selection, the grapes are destemmed and fall directly into the stainless steel tank without the use of pumps. The alcoholic fermentation takes place at a low temperature and the wine undergoes a 7-day post-fermentative maceration on its skins. Next comes the malolactic fermentation followed by 12 months aging in stainless steel. The wine undergoes low-invasion filtering and is bottled. Then it is aged for at least 12 months prior to being released for sale.
TASTING NOTES	Ruby color with violet hues. On the palate, this is a clean, well-balanced wine with medium body, smooth, rounded tannins and good acidity. Juicy and fruity with varietal expression.
